

Christian Mens Breakfast, December 24, 2011

The discussion notes ( PDF / TEXT ) for breakfast on Saturday, December 24, 2011 are now online – "Trumpets, Scrolls, Horses, etc". Discussion verses: Zephaniah 2:7 and Revelation 11:3

This is week 51 of the ONE YEAR BIBLE CHALLENGE.

SUGGESTIONS:

|                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| If you didn't start the ONE YEAR BIBLE CHALLENGE in 2011, then... ->                                      | Read the Whole Bible in 2012                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| If you started, but didn't finish the ONE YEAR BIBLE CHALLENGE in 2011, then... ->                        | Read the Whole Bible in 2012                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| If you completed the ONE YEAR BIBLE CHALLENGE in 2011, by reading the entire Bible in one year, then...-> | Congratulations! You should Read the Whole Bible (again) in 2012. I'll be starting my third year in a row, and it hasn't been boring yet. But try a different reading plan or Bible translation if you want more variety. |